

Bailey add two new family layouts to model line up

Bailey of Bristol will be strengthening its product portfolio with the introduction of two additional family friendly layouts in the New Year.

New to the Ranger Series 5 model line up is the 540/6, a unique single axle double dinette layout. Based on the recently launched Senator Series 6 Carolina this caravan features a new end bedroom configuration that includes a flexible triple bunk arrangement and a larger L-shaped rear saloon provides the perfect solution for both the day time and night time arrangements of the younger members of the family.

Combined with a central washroom, a substantial kitchen and full length parallel front beds the 540/6 offers a layout that packs a great deal into a single axle body shell.

Incorporating the design expertise that has won Practical Caravan Magazine's Budget Range' Award for three consecutive three years, Ranger has become a market leading range by providing well equipped, yet affordable, light weight touring homes to a new generation of caravan owners. Series 5 continues very much in the same vein, but at the same time boasts a host of internal and external upgrades that give it an up market feel which belies its entry level price tag.

The new Pageant Series 6 Loire also draws inspiration from another recently launched Ranger layout. Since its arrival earlier this year the Ranger 620/6 has fast become the best selling model in the range - a fact recognised by the recent receipt of both Which Caravan Magazine's "Best Family Caravan" and Caravan Industry Magazines "Best Caravan up to £12,000" awards.

This innovative new layout provides accommodation for up to six people, including a rear fixed double bed with an en suite corner bathroom. Full length parallel front beds and a single side dinette, with Pullman overhead bunk, completes a flexible living arrangement that will suit families and couples alike.

The Loire provides the same award winning layout in the UK's best selling caravan range. As with all Pageant Series 6 models, the Loire comes packed with features including, an exterior 230v socket, a Dometic 117 litre refrigerator, a Microwave oven and a Radio/CD/MP3 player as standard to provide owners with all the comforts of home at a price they can afford.
